

City Crews Continue Work on Winter Roads

Roadway Maintenance crews are working around the clock on arterial roads, collector/bus routes, bridges and hills as snow continues to fall.

Motorists are advised to drive for the conditions as they make their way through the city as there will still be some areas that are slick. Motorists are advised to take extra time to get to where they're going, to keep a safe distance between vehicles and brake gently, and to have vehicle windows clear of ice and snow.

Bob Dunford, Director of Roadway Maintenance, Transportation Operations (Transportation Services) is available to speak to media regarding snow removal in Edmonton.
