

Edmontonians Invited to Offer Condolences on the Passing of Nelson Mandela

The City of Edmonton has made a book of condolences available for the public to sign in honour of Nelson Mandela.

The book will be available now until Friday, December 13, 2013. It is at the Citizen and New Arrival Information Centre, main floor, City Hall between 7 a.m. and 10 p.m.

Edmontonians are invited to sign their name or share thoughts about the life and passing of the former South African President. He died on December 5, 2013 after a long illness.

The flags at City Hall will be lowered to half-mast on Sunday, December 15, 2013 in honour of Mandela's state funeral in South Africa.
