High winds disrupt LRT service

Due to high winds that have damaged some crossing arms at intersections along 111 Street, LRT service between South Campus Station and Century Park Station was suspended at 7 a.m. Wednesday, January 15, 2014. Buses are being used to transport Edmonton Transit System (ETS) passengers between South Campus and Century Park LRT stations.

LRT passengers should continue to expect delays during the morning commute. Please follow the City of Edmonton's Twitter feed for updates.

Regular service is in place on the remainder of Edmonton's LRT between Clareview Station and South Campus Station.
