Service returns to South LRT

LRT service resumed between South Campus and Century Park stations at 3 p.m. today, in time for the afternoon commute.

Trains will not be travelling at their normal speed through the area as crews continue repairs at the crossings along the line. The LRT will be running every 8 minutes instead of every 5 minutes.

Replacement bus service will also be available to provide additional service for customers travelling between the stations.

High winds damaged some crossing arms at intersections along 111 Street, forcing the suspension of LRT service between South Campus Station and Century Park Station.
