The Forestry, Beautification, and Environmental Management section is the first area within the City to host an Artist in Residence. Jeff Collins is a well-established artist in Edmonton, with over 18 years of experience in painting. His body of work includes an extensive collection of landscapes and abstracts.

The exhibitions feature paintings that showcase perspectives of the urban forest as seen by city employees, as well as the natural landscapes of Edmonton's beautiful river valley. Jeff's paintings, as well as a selection of paintings from City of Edmonton employees that participated in Jeff's classes, will be on display.

The Artist in Residence program is sponsored by the Edmonton Arts Council, and is part of the City of Edmonton's Art of Living Implementation Plan. For more information on the Artist in Residence program, visit edmontonarts.ca/artist_in_residence_call/.
