City of Edmonton

Unplug for a brighter future

Earth Hour 2014 takes place Saturday, March 29, 2014 from 8:30–9:30 p.m. The City of Edmonton is encouraging everyone to turn off lights and unplug non-essential power sources and take an hour to think about how we can all reduce our impact on the environment.

Earth Hour is an annual event to encourage citizens to support action on climate change but it's also a great way to power down our lives for a brief period and reconnect with family and friends.

Check the City of Edmonton's Earth Hour web page to get ideas for things you can do to celebrate Earth Hour at home or at work. Visit edmonton.ca/earthhour.
