City of Edmonton

See Jane's Walk

Join Councillor Bev Esslinger and students from St. Dominic School to kick off Jane's Walk, an annual event that brings people together to discover what makes their city unique through the simple act of walking. Jane's Walks will be happening in Edmonton and in cities across the globe to celebrate the philosophy of Jane Jacobs, an urbanist who believed the best way to connect a city is to explore, talk about and celebrate neighbourhoods.

Date: Friday, May 2, 2014

Time: Noon

Location: City Hall (south steps)

On hand will be Julie Courmoyer, coordinator for the City of Edmonton's Walkable Edmonton and urban historian Marianne Fedori, to provide information on all of the walks taking place in Edmonton over the weekend.

The public walks leaving from City Hall on Friday include:

- Downtown Heritage & Urban Design - A Heritage Planner's Ramblings
- Giant Holes! Transforming Edmonton's Core
- Downtown History
