Edmonton's street art pilot launches second site

Media are invited to join Councillors Mike Nickel and Ben Henderson, City of Edmonton Capital City Clean Up staff and the Edmonton Arts Council for the launch of the second Open Source Street Art site at the Whyte Avenue Tirecraft building.

Date: Thursday, May 15, 2014

Time: 2 p.m.

Location: Tirecraft Building, South-facing Alley (10021-82 Avenue NW)

The wall is part of a two-year pilot project which allows artists to legally and safely practice their street art in designated locations. The project will monitor the effect the sites have in deterring graffiti vandalism while allowing local artists to contribute to the beautification of our city.
