City of Edmonton

Free family fun for everyone

Take a dip or a trip back in time on Free Admission Day

Nature, swimming, otters and Zumba can all be part of your FREE family fun this Sunday! The City of Edmonton is proud to host Free Admission Day to thank Edmontonians for their ongoing support of attractions and recreation facilities.

Your Free Admission Day could include a yoga class or a dip in the pool at a recreation centre, a visit to the otters at the Edmonton Valley Zoo, a tropical adventure at the Muttart Conservatory, a trip back in time at the Prince of Wales Armouries Heritage Centre, a family skate at a City arena, and much, much more!

The YMCA has partnered with the City to offer free admission at four of its facilities again this year.

The City of Edmonton proudly supports Edmonton's Food Bank. On Free Admission Day, donations of non-perishable food items will be gratefully accepted at all participating facilities.

Due to high traffic, parking will be limited at all facilities. The City encourages Edmontonians to make use of the Edmonton Transit System, which provides frequent, quick access to and between all facilities and attractions. Regular transit fees are in effect. Call 311 (780-442-4311 outside of Edmonton) for route and schedule information for direct service to and between all facilities and attractions.

Capacities vary at each facility and admission may be controlled for safety and security purposes.

Please note that Free Admission Day is only for the facilities listed. It does not apply to other City of Edmonton services.
