Film sheds light on lives of homeless youth in Edmonton

Media are invited to the premiere of Through My Eyes. The highly anticipated documentary film profiles homeless youth in Edmonton, telling their stories in their own way, in their own words. Through My Eyes offers honest insight into the realities of Edmonton's at-risk youth.

Through My Eyes was created and directed by members of the City of Edmonton Youth Council.

Councillor Andrew Knack, youth council members, the film's cast and crew and community leaders will attend the premiere.

Date: Monday, November 17, 2014

Time: 6:30 p.m. screening

Panel discussion to follow

Panel Topic: Understanding the factors that contribute to youth homelessness and what our community can do to help

Location: Myer Horowitz Theatre, University of Alberta Campus
8900-114 Street, Edmonton

The City of Edmonton is proud to be a part of this project, which aligns with the work of the Mayor's Task Force to Eliminate Poverty and the 10-year Plan to End Homelessness.

Due to coarse language and mature subject matter, audience discretion is strongly advised.
