The new year is bright at the Muttart Conservatory

Each January, the Muttart Conservatory welcomes a new year with a dazzling new botanical display. 2015 is the Year of the Ram and the year's first feature pyramid display will be Lunar New Year: Year of the Ram. Open from January 10 to March 1, this show will be a tribute to a year of harmony and art at the Conservatory.

Visitors will find serenity amid a colourful array of red lanterns, pink azaleas and white orchids. 2015 is a time to live in harmony with nature and explore the artistic side of life.

Saturday, January 24, the winter sky will be alight with fireworks during the Muttart Conservatory's Lunar New Year @ the Conservatory celebration.
