Summer day camp registration opens

Summer is quickly approaching and it's time to think about how to avoid hearing the dreaded words, "I'm bored" from your children. Keep your kids safely entertained and happy at the City of Edmonton Community Summer Day Camps. Registration is now open.

Day camps are available in neighbourhoods throughout Edmonton. The camps offer a variety of themed experiences for kids aged two to 12 and are a great way for kids to have fun, make new friends and learn new things. Program themes include cooking, sports, drama, arts, imaginative play, science and nature.

With all these activities just steps away, your child's summer will be anything but boring.
