City of Edmonton

Tour Edmonton's world-class waste management centre

In celebration of Environment Week, the City of Edmonton invites residents to come for a free tour of the Edmonton Waste Management Centre (EWMC) and see why Edmonton is a world leader in turning waste into resources.

Dates: Monday, June 1 – Friday, June 5, 2015

Tour Times: 2 p.m. and 5:30 p.m.

Location: Edmonton Waste Management Centre
(13111 Meridian Street)

Admission: Free – Reservations are required.
Please call: 780-496-5698.

During a two-hour tour of the facilities you will learn how:

- Garbage is used to create valuable compost at one of North America's largest composting facilities
- Recyclables are sorted and prepared for market
- Decomposing garbage inside a landfill is used to create electricity
- Computers and TVs are recycled
- Non-recyclable and non-compostable waste will be turned into methanol and later ethanol at the new waste-to-biofuels facility

Please note that tours are not appropriate for children younger than nine years of age.
