City seeks public input for 122 Avenue collector plan

The City of Edmonton invites citizens to a drop-in workshop to share thoughts about travelling along 122 Avenue and consider improvements to make this roadway more comfortable for all road users, including pedestrians, cyclist, motorists and transit.

Date: Tuesday, June 16, 2015
Time: 4 – 8 p.m.
Location: Delton Community Hall, 12325 - 88 Street

The City has initiated a Concept Planning Study for 122 Avenue between 107 Street and Fort Road as part of the City's Collector Concept Planning program.

122 Avenue is an important east-west connection and transit corridor that provides access to commercial areas in the Fort Road area and residential neighbourhoods. 122 Avenue will also connect to the future Blatchford urban redevelopment and to the Metro Line LRT, once it is extended to the City's Northwest limit. The intent of the study is to develop a new roadway configuration, which updates the corridor to meet the needs of current and future users.
