City of Edmonton

Don't park it, art it!

Edmontonians are encouraged to take part in PARK\(ing\) Day on September 18, an annual worldwide event where metered parking spots are transformed into temporary public parks and other innovative spaces. The City of Edmonton's CITYlab, the Drawing Room and City-Region Studies Centre are organizing PARK(ing) Day at parking spots near Canada Place from noon to 6 p.m.

Citizens are invited to be a part of PARK(ing) Day. Come up with an idea. We'll provide the space and the materials to help turn your project into reality.

Submit a proposal at drawingroomedmonton.com/parkingday2015 by midnight August 17th, 2015. Proposals will be reviewed by a committee of organizers and applicants will be notified within two weeks.

Need help with your vision for the 8x24 foot parking stall? Attend the PARK(ing) Day Design Workshop on August 11, 2015. Register to attend at parkingdayworkshop.eventbrite.ca for help with your proposal and to meet other participants.
