

Let's get litter out of the River Valley

Edmonton is renowned for its beautiful River Valley – one of the largest urban parklands in all of North America. Every year, dedicated and passionate volunteers come together to remove litter in the valley and parks, helping to keep the River Valley a place for all Edmontonians to enjoy.

Help keep this momentum going by volunteering your time at the fall River Valley Clean Up event October 3, 2015 from 10 a.m. until noon. This year, volunteers can lend a hand at any of the following parks: George F. Hustler Park, Glastonbury Park or Giovanni Caboto Park.

Volunteers can register at any of the three locations. Clean-up supplies will be provided. Please bring gloves if you have any, wear sturdy shoes and dress for the weather.

Date: Saturday October 3, 2015

Time: 10 a.m. to noon

Locations: George F. Hustler Park (95 St. & 98 Ave.)
Glastonbury Park (Graham Court & Graham Wynd)
Giovanni Caboto Park (95 St. & 108Ave.)

Unable to attend? All it really takes is fifteen minutes to make a difference. From October 4-11, 2015, Edmontonians are encouraged to participate in the 15-to-Clean Challenge. Choose an area around your home, your school or your work and take 15 minutes to pick up litter. Visit any Edmonton Public Library to pick up a free cleaning kit for your clean!
