

Aquatics centre at Clareview Recreation Centre reopens

March 23, 2016

Clareview Community Recreation Centre will return to full operations with the reopening of the aquatics centre as planned on Tuesday, March 29, 2016.

The facility closed earlier this year for its required one-year warranty inspection. This included follow up work such as touch-ups, maintenance and deep cleaning from top to bottom, as well as upgrades including installation of a new door alarm system, lockers for patrons' valuables, emergency phones in the fitness centre, additional safety railings in the aquatics area and refreshed painting in a number of spaces.

As part of the construction process for this new facility, the City of Edmonton shut down select amenities at the end of the first year of operations to inspect and ensure all aspects of the building are working as designed before the warranty expires.

The City is pleased to welcome patrons back to the aquatic centre at Clareview Recreation Centre and thanks all members for their patience during the temporary shutdown. Annual memberships are available at all City of Edmonton Recreation Centres. For more information on facility hours, programs and schedules, please call 311 or visit edmonton.ca/recreationcentres
