

Bike parking moves out onto the street

City starts installing bike corrals today

March 31, 2016

Bike corrals are returning to five Old Strathcona locations with a new sixth location to be added in the next few months.

As with every spring, streets are still quite dusty, but City maintenance crews have been out this week spot cleaning bike corral locations in advance of full spring street sweeping. Bike corrals will be set up in on-street parking stalls at these locations.

- 102 Street South of Whyte Avenue (Roots on Whyte)
- Whyte Avenue and 104 Street (Starbucks)
- 105 Street North of Whyte Avenue (Chapters)
- 104 Street South of 83 Avenue (The Next Act Pub)
- 88 Avenue West of 109 Street (The Sugarbowl)

All the bike corral locations are the same as last year, with a new location to be installed on 81 Avenue west of 103 Street. The 124th Street business district will not see bike corrals this year due to Neighbourhood Renewal construction in the area.

Bike corrals can accommodate up to 16 bikes in the same space taken up by one vehicle. They help create a more pedestrian-friendly environment in busy locations and increase outdoor seating space for restaurants by removing locked bikes from sidewalks.

The City's bike parking program is designed to help create a more bike-friendly city and to encourage the use of sustainable transportation for travel to high density areas.
