

Understanding the link between crime and poverty

June 9, 2016

EndPovertyEdmonton, iHuman Youth Society and the John Humphrey Centre for Peace and Human Rights will host two criminalization simulation seminars to help elected officials, City of Edmonton employees, law enforcement and front line agencies better understand the link between crime and poverty.

Date: Thursday, June 9, 2016
Time: 2 p.m. - 4:30 p.m.
Location: iHuman Youth Society, 9635 102A Street N.W.

Date: Friday, June 10, 2016
Time: Noon - 2:30 p.m.
Location: iHuman Youth Society, 9635 102A Street N.W.

The seminars are designed and presented by youth, some of whom have personal experiences with the criminal justice system. The sessions will showcase the experience of what it is like to be criminalized for living in poverty.

Media will have an opportunity to interview youth and the individuals taking part in the sessions. They will also have an opportunity to record a small portion of the simulation.
