

Citizens invited to provide input into Heritage Interpretive Plan

August 12, 2016

Citizens are invited to provide input to help create the Heritage Interpretive Plan for the River Crossing (West Rossdale) area.

The Heritage Interpretive Plan will guide how heritage and culture are reflected and communicated throughout the area as it evolves over time. It will honour our collective history, respect Indigenous heritage and culture, and will contribute to the future identity of this special place within Edmonton's river valley.

Input can be provided:

- Through an online survey available at Edmonton.ca/HeritageInterpretivePlan from August 12 to October 15, 2016
- At a public visioning workshop. September 7, 2016, from 6 to 9 p.m. at Stanley A. Milner Library (7 Sir Winston Churchill Square). Individuals who would like to attend the workshop are asked to email their interest to rivercrossing@edmonton.ca.

The Heritage Interpretive Plan is expected to be complete in early 2017 and will serve as one of several cornerstones for the development of a Business Plan for the West Rossdale area.
