

Call for Ideas: Edmonton Legacy Projects for Canada 150!

September 21, 2016

The City of Edmonton's Canada 150 Celebrations Committee is soliciting ideas from the community for potential legacy projects for Canada's 150th Anniversary in 2017. The committee will consider capital, cultural and social legacy projects (or a combination of these focus areas) and projects that will help build and strengthen community over the long term.

We are looking for organizations or groups with an interest in potential legacy projects in Edmonton to submit their ideas and concepts for consideration.

Deadline for submission of ideas is October 17, 2016.

The City of Edmonton Canada 150 Legacy Projects Sub-Committee will review submissions and identify potential projects to advance. Priority ranked proposals may require additional information to support implementation.
