

LRT service adjustment: trains run every 20 minutes this Sunday

October 21, 2016

Beginning at the start of service on Sunday, October 23, Edmonton Transit System (ETS) crews will repair a pipe located in the tunnel at University LRT station. LRT service will be adjusted in order to complete the work as quickly and safely as possible.

Transit riders boarding Capital Line trains will need to use Track 2 for both directions at Grandin, University and Health Sciences stations. Metro Line trains will run between Churchill and NAIT stations. Regular service is expected to resume at approximately 4 p.m.

The pipe is an important connection that is required in case of a fire. The work was planned during this time when there is lower ridership and minimal impact to service.

Customers are recommended to plan ahead and view travel details with the Transit Trip Planner at takeETS.com.
