Amiskwacyi History Series: Stories of survival

February 17, 2017

Ken Armstrong, an award winning photographer from Sagkeeng First Nation, has dedicated his work to documenting Canada's homeless and Indigenous populations. In Armstrong's Amiskwacyi History Series presentation, Edmontonians' will see the present day effects of the Indian Residential School system through photos and story.

Date: Wednesday, February 22, 2017

Time: 6:30 - 8:30 p.m.

Location: Edmonton Public Library Theatre,
Whitemud Crossing Branch, 4211 – 106 Street

Cost: Free

The Amiskwacyi History Series is a new Indigenous initiative created to build awareness around the often untold Indigenous history of the Edmonton area. Through free monthly educational sessions, the series aims to provide accessible and culturally appropriate education to the public on Indigenous history as lived and told by the people.

The name Amiskwacyi comes from Amiskwacyi Waskahikan or "Beaver Hill House," a Cree term used to describe the Edmonton area.+
