

It's time to 'Wake Up' Your Compost!

April 20, 2017

Many Edmontonians compost because they know it's an easy way to reduce household waste by turning it into a valuable soil enhancement. International Compost Awareness Week (May 7-13) is the ideal time for residents to revitalize their gardens by stirring their compost or taking up composting for the first time!

Do you know how to wake up your compost?
The City of Edmonton is offering the following opportunities to help residents better understand composting:

- Take a basic or advanced two-hour workshop for only $10 at Compost 'S' cool, located near John Janzen Nature Centre. Workshops offered April 23 to May 6.
- Ask the Compost Doctor anything you want to know about compost by calling 780-496-5526 or email compost@edmonton.ca.
- Follow along with the conversation on Facebook@CompostScool. Get pointers and to-do lists for your weekend, plus learn something about organics recycling, every week.

To register for workshops, go to edmonton.ca/eReg or call 311.
