Amiskwacyi History Series: The Pemmican Eaters

April 21, 2017

Marilyn Dumont, an Indigenous feminist, will touch on Edmonton's forgotten past with her presentation, The Pemmican Eaters. Dumont believes in Indigenous Sovereignty and the need for Indigenous Peoples to gather and support each other in relearning their original languages.

Date: Thursday, April 27, 2017

Time: 6:30 - 8:30 p.m.

Location: Edmonton Public Library Theatre
Whitemud Crossing Branch, 4211 – 106 Street

Cost: Free

Marilyn Dumont is a strong supporter of Indigenous artists. She has published four poetry books and won provincial and national awards.

The Amiskwacyi History Series is an Indigenous initiative created to build awareness around the often untold Indigenous history of the Edmonton area. Through free monthly educational sessions, the series aims to provide accessible and culturally appropriate education to the public on Indigenous history as lived and told by the people.

The name Amiskwacyi comes from Amiskwacyi Waskahikan or "Beaver Hill House," a Cree term used to describe the Edmonton area.
